Meadow Wood News

This week we have started our Friday Clubs. Each class will have fun activities planned by the teaching assistants to develop extra-curricula activities. The intention is they are not held in the classroom, they are fun. Creative and interactive. The first afternoon has been very successful and we look forward to sharing lots more about this new initiative over the coming weeks.

Rabbits

In Rabbits class we are continuing our topic work by thinking about dolls. We have had a dolls tea party (with play dough), we named their body parts and we decided which are big and which are little. Our special story was "Oh Dear!" by Rod Campbell.

Field Mice

This week in Field Mice, we began to read the story of "Pinocchio". We made short sentences to identify the characters within the story and created some fantastic drawings of them too. We are all looking forward to exploring the tale further as the term goes on.

Ladybirds

On Wednesday Ladybirds took an assembly based on the theme of Friendship, Respect and Caring. The class performed the story of the Little Red Hen, with their own unique twist to the tale! Miles was a superb Little Red Hen, he was particularly wonderful greeting the other children in the audience by calling out "Hello" in a terrific loud voice. The other children played the parts of various farm animals. Ladybirds concluded their assembly by asking each class to consider the themes by giving each class a set of paper chain friends to personalise for their classroom.

Owls

This week in Owls class we have been listening to pieces of music and exploring toys related to each piece.
